GENEALOGY OF JESSE WRIGHT

who was the son of Benjamin Wright, Sr., and grandson of Richard Wright, Sr. whose will was probated in Rowan County, North Carolina, on February 8, 1785.

DEDICATION

TO my daughter, Hilda (Misenhimer) Turner, my cousin, Duronda (Franks) Smith, and to my cousin, Emil Barger, who is not with us to share in any joy of achievement we might feel, but to whom I owe a great debt of gratitude, I am happy to dedicate this work, for without their help and encouragement I could not have accomplished as much as I have.

Freda Landrus Misenhimer

PREFACE

While collecting descendants of Benjamin Wright,Sr. over many years, I tried unsuccessfully to learn something of his son,Jesse Wright after he left Monroe County,Indiana. Therefore I was very pleased to hear from his great,great granddaughter, Freda Landrus Misenhimer of Trilla,Illinois in 1954, and to find that she was interested in family history. In a short time, as genealogy goes, she has done an excellent piece of research and compiled all of Jesse Wright's known descendants plus many other lines of her family. She has been aided, especially with the typing, by her daughter, Hilda Misenhimer Turner to whom we are very grateful.

Since none of this material was included in my manuscript,"Wright Family History,Volume I" or in Lillie Wright Lane White's book,"Genealogy of Richard Wright and Descendants" published in 1943, this will be a valuable addition to those genealogies, copies of which are now in Newberry Library, the D.A.R. Library in Washington,D.C., Indiana State Library and a few others.

I am sure Mrs. Misenhimer will appreciate hearing from anyone who can give her more information on this family.She is especially anxious to know what became of the SIXTH daughter of Jesse Wright. Was she Nancy S. . Miller, who signed a quit claim deed to Francis Marion Wright's estate? A descendant of Lucinda Wright Whiseband remembers visitors named Miller from Greencastle, Indiana, said to be kin, but the family has not been located to verify relationship.

Mrs. Misenhimer, although eligible through many lines, is not a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and has kindly consented to give this manuscript to the Illinois State Genealogical Records Commitee through my La Grange-Illinois Chapter.

The Wright Story

In bringing the Wright story up to the advent of Jesse W., and Benjamin Wright into Cumberland Co., I repeat here a bit from Lillie (Wright) Lane's published work on Richard Wright, Sr., and family. Also Volumes 1,II, and III by Mrs. Osee Knouf, of LaGrange, Illinois on Richard Wright, Sr., and his entire family, it has taken twenty years of unremitting toil, great patience and surely, a fortune, to compile this record of our ancestors. It is a monumental piece of work, one of which this writer could never be capable of doing.

Too, though, I am interested in the "family tree." I'm greatly interested in the people themselves, their likes, their loves, their dislikes, their accomplishments, etc., but to Mrs. Knouf goes my regard and respect for a great work, wonderfully done, and about finished, except for the family of Jesse Wright who seemingly vanished from Indiana ken in 1852. Benjamin Wright was easily traced as he left a son in Indiana and had many more sons. Jesse Wright was blessed with six daughters and one son, who was only a boy when left their old home, facing westward and the wilderness so the trail was easily lost when the daughters married.

Mrs. Knouf's work has been accepted by several state libraries, Newberry, in Chicago, Ill., and the National DAR in Wash., D.C., where these completed versions are accessible to the public.

From Genealogy of Richard Wright, Sr., and descendants: Lillie (Wright) Lane White:

"I was born near the home of my great grandfather, James Wright, who was an early settler of Monroe Co., Ind. Well do I remember my great grandfather Wright's funeral, although I was quite a small child at the time. Perhaps the incident of my sister's nearly falling into the open grave impressed it on my memory more than the ceremony itself.

The old English Biographical Dictionary states the Wryghts came from Normandy with William the Conqueror in 1066. Hereditary sur-names were just coming into use in Normandy at that time and the Normas brought the fashion into England. (Vol. VIII, page 3000, Enc. Brittanica, Vol XVII, page 169, 9th edition.)

Some families by the name of Wright came to America as early as 1636. Many Wrights took an active part in the Revolutionary war and some were officers. The family also had its authors, poets, educators, reformers, Missionaries, financiers, and men of science as well as professional men. We are justly proud of the early Ministers, venerable pioneers who do belong to our family, and who by their labor, scrifices, and their exemplory lives helped establish the Christian citizenship in the counties where they settled.

The name WRIGHT, seems to be of Anglo-Saxon derivation and means a workman, especially an artificer in wood or hard materials. Wright, at the present time, means Carpenter in Scotland.

In this numbering system in this book, the first index number denotes the generation of that person from Richard Wright, Sr. The second number indicates the child. For example, the number of William Wright, son of Richard Wright, Sr.; is 2-5 which means he is of the second generation and the fifth child of the family.

1. By Grant Wright: "Tradition has it that Richard Wright, Sr., was born in England, emigrated to Wales, came back into England, and he with four brothers, emigrated to America about 1746. They came to the Eastern Coast of Maryland. Here they separated. Two went into New England, one into New York, and Richard with one brother came into Virginia, then to Randolph Co., N.C. Later Richard moved to Rowan Co., N.C., where he spent the remainder of his life."

According to DAR records, Richard Wright, Sr., was born in 1730 and died in 1785. We know his will was probated Feb. 8, 1785. Grant Wright says: "He is supposed to have been buried in a cemetery on the Waters of the Uharie in Davidson Co., near the Randolph Co., line. There has not been a burial in that cemetery for more than 100 years. The graves are marked with crude stones bearing no inscriptions." Addie (Wright) Hepler says this cemetery is about two miles from Silver Valley cross roads, North Carolina. Pioneer Preachers of Indiana, by Madison Evans, pub. by J. Challen and sons of Philadelphia in 1862, says the Wrights came from England. DAR records say Richard Wright Sr., married in Rowan Co., N.C., in 1748. Judge Lee Wright of Salisbury, N.C., says in his manuscript: "the first deed found so far in Rowan Co., to Richard Wright was dated 1762, in Book 5, page 366." DAR records also say his wife's name was Jane. The History of Bartholomew and Jackson County, published in 1904 by B.F. Bowen, on page 745, calls her name Nancy. Perhaps the real name was Nancy Jane, as Nancy is often shortened to Ann or Nan. In 1939, Mrs. Kyle Wright Hill, descendant of Richard, Jr., learned through Mrs. Willborn of High Point, N.C., that when Richard's will was probated, the widow, was Ann. DAR records gives the date of her death as 1795. Grant Wright's manuscript says: "it seems that Richard Wright, Sr., was a Revolutionary soldier, a Pvt., in the N.C., militia from Rowan Co. It is said that five of his oldest sons fought in the Revolution."

We know that Richard Wright, Sr., and his sons Richard, Jr., Benjamin and William, Jr., have been used many times for DAR membership. We have no information on Peter or John.

Grant Wright says he had the names and dates of Richard Wright, Sr's, children from Elder Ezekiel Wright of Putnam Co., Ind., who sent them to his father many years ago. Mary Lee Woodrum, of Putnam Co., Ind., says her father also had the same names and dates.

Children of Richard Wright, Sr., and wife, Ann or Nancy Jane.

The will was probated Feb. 8, 1785 by Evans Wright and James Morgan Junr. His widow Ann and William Wright qualified giving bond of 200 pounds with James Morgan as security.

The clerk who sent the will, says the "Waters of Nary" could be "Uary", if so it probably meant the river Uharie.

Benjamin Wright, Sr.

2-1 Benjamin Wright, Sr., son of Richard Wright and wife, Ann or Nancy Jane, was b. 1752, died at his son Adam's near Indianapolis, Indiana about 1842, according to Grant Wright's records. We do not know where Benjamin was born. The first deed to his father in Rowan Co., N.C., was dated 1762.

Benjamin is first named in his father's will dated Sept. 3, 1784 and given 200 acres of land on the waters of Deep River in Randolph Co., N.C., including the plantation whereon he used to live. Benjamin lived in the section of N.C., many years and relatives, still there, say Ben Wright Mountain in Randolph Co., was named for him. He moved to Indiana in the 1820's with his second wife, and their children. Many of his first children had already settled in Indiana. We find him listed in the Indiana census of 1830, in Wayne twp., Marion Co., Ind., next to his youngest daughter, Celia Wright and husband Nathaniel Bell. He was then between 80-90, his wife between 60-70. Nearby were his sons, Jordan and Judge Adam Wright. The 1840 census of Marion Co., Ind., gives all these children but no Benjamin Wright. With Jordon's family however, is listed a female between 70-80. This was probably Jordon's mother. (Note: Prior to 1850 census records were recorded so. 1850 being the first year they listed residents of a family by given name.)

Deed records show that Adam Wright's farm was just south of Trader's Point, Marion Co., Ind., on the Lafayette Road, now called the Bush farm.

Osee Knouf could find no cemetery on this farm. Recently found Adam and wife were buried in Old Union cemetery, now between the Speedway and Clermont, Ind. Adam died not long after his father and probably they were buried in the same place. There is an old slab next to Adam's grave, so worn that a tracing shows only, A.B. Wright, died 1837. The Indiana State Library has records of this cemetery which was copied a few years ago, they say: "A.B. Wright died Oct. 4, 1857." 3 and 5 would look something alike on an old slab. He lived to be about 86 years old, if this stone is his.

U.S. Wright of Albuquerque, New Mexico, grandson of Benjamin Jr., collected much data on Ben, Sr., from his elderly aunts, daughters of Ben, Jr. They said Benjamin, Sr's first wife was Barbara, and his second Patsey. They remembered their aunts, Sarah Hill, Martha Moss and Elizabeth Copple lived near enough to often walk over to visit in Putnam Co., Ind. They gave the list of Benjamin Wright, Sr's, children which follow. He married the second time in 1795. Levi Woodrum said, years ago, that Richard Wright, Sr., had three sons who married Morgan girls. We knew Richard, Jr., and William did, but did not know that Benjamin was the third until recently. Mrs. Lillie E. (Wright) White of Bloomington, Ind., a descendant of Benjamin Wright, Sr., through his son, James, has proof that James' mother was a Morgan.

While we feel quite sure that Benjamin Wright, Sr's, first wife was a Morgan, I have had some doubts about the second one, Barbara since finding that Jordan Wright's wife was, Barbara Fox. Could the old aunts have confused the two? We have found only one Barbara in the known grand-daughters of Benjamin, Sr., but many first girls in the family were named Elizabeth.

"Patsey" is the only name known for Benjamin Wright, Sr's, second wife. His great grand-daughter, Cordie Rector of Ottumwa, Iowa, says he grew so old he forgot that he had ever been married before, and used to say---"I never had any wife but Patsey." It should be noted here that a descendant of his son, James, wrote that he had always heard Benjamin Wright, Sr., married two Morgan girls (sisters) the last when he was very old, and mentioned a "General Morgan" as their father. This we cannot verify.

Benjamin Wright, Sr., is said to have been in the battle of Guilford County Court House in the Rev. War. He was paid for services according to N.C., Rev. Army accounts, Vol XI, page 73, folio 1; and Vol. XII, page 21, folio 2. One dated Aug. 1783, the other not dated. Copies of these records are filed at Memorial Continental Hall in Wash., D.C., under Nat. DAR No. 291647.

Children of Benjamin Wright, Sr., and Barbara (Morgan) Wright:
3-1 Elizabeth Wright, d. after 1830. Married Peter Copple.
3-2 Nancy Wright, b. May 4, 1779, d. Apr. 10, 1860.
3-3 Martha Wright, b. May 1780, d. after 1872.
3-4 James Wright, b. Dec. 16, 1781, d. after May 1873.
3-5 Richard Wright, b. June 15, 1783, d. Nov. 1843.
3-6 Jesse Wright, b. 1791, d. after 1862.
3-7 Sarah Wright, b. 1792, d. 1846.
3-8 Benjamin Wright, Jr., b. Apr. 18, 1794, d. Sept. 4, 1866.

Benjamin Wright, Sr. married 2nd, to Patsey -------.
Children:
3-9 Jordan Wright, b. Jan.12,1796, d. Apr. 4,1865.
3-10 Adam Wright, b. Jan. 13, 1799, d. Oct. 13, 1851.
3-11 John Wright, died young.
3-12 Thomas Wright, burned to death as a child.
3-13 Celia Wright, b. June 17, 1805, d. Jan. 10,1876.

As my ancestor is 3-6, Jesse Wright, I will leave the rest of this enormous family to Lillie (Wright) Lane and Mrs. Osee Knouf's three volumes and concern myself only with Jesse, his descendants and a summary of 3-8, Benjamin, who also was in Cumberland County, Illinois.

3-6 Jesse Wright, son of Benjamin and Barbara (Morgan) Wright, b. 1791 in North Carolina. He came to Indiana in the early 1800's lived in Washington, Co., for awhile, then to Monroe Co., with his brother, James Wright, where he served as Sheriff. He moved to Illinois and was in Cumberland Co., so far as is known to date (1955) in 1862.

The census record of Clear Creek Twp., Monroe Co., Ind., for 1850 lists his wife as Susanna Wright, born in North Carolina.

I secured a copy of the deed from Bloomington, Ind., circuit clerk of the sale of Jesse Wright's farm on Feb. 28, 1849. Vol. L. page 424, 425, where Susanna's signature appears. Yet in Nov., of 1850 to 1851 when Jesse is supposed to have come to Cumberland Co., Ill., with his brother, Benjamin, there was no wife with Jesse Wright. The brother, Benjamin, died Sept. 4, 1866 and is buried at old Wright cemetery, one half mile north of the Coles-Cumberland county line and two miles east of Trilla, Ill. There is no grave stone for the twins buried beside Benjamin, and no stone or grave site to indicate Jesse Wright is buried there beside his brother, but I am inclined to believe so, though why, of this large family, Jesse Wright would have no grave marker, I cannot say, unless the stone has been broken and so lost, as I have found the Wright family in Cumberland Co., were meticulous in their record keeping.

I find at the time of the census of 1860 Jesse Wright was living in a log house almost in the exact center of a forty acre tract upon which at present date (1955) the Hopewell Baptist church occupies the extreme northeast corner. I find Jesse Wright executed his last deed in 1862.

There is little doubt left with me but that Jesse Wright died during the Civil War days when it is well known the times were exceedingly hard in this county. When peace was restored and burdens lightened somewhat, perhaps the stone was forgotten, or perhaps was erected and broken long ago and I have no way of knowing.

Jesse Wright entered land from the Government on Aug. 15, 1851, the W½ of lot 1 of NE¼ of Sec. 3, t. 10, NR 8 D 3rd P.M. 40 acres but this acreage was sold to Jourdan Brown on Jan. 23, 1852. This land lay two miles south of Johnstown, on the prairie. It is not believed Jesse Wright ever lived on this land.

On July 20, 1853, Jesse Wright purchased land NE¼ NE¼ Sec. 34, R 8 E of 3rd P.M., Cottonwood Twp., Cumberland Co., Ill., upon which he lived.

It is thought Jesse Wright served in the War of 1812, though we can find no specific record of his services as yet, as there were seven or eight Jesse Wright's in Indiana during his day, and so cannot separate them. Too, family tradition has it that when these Wright emigrants came to Illinois they came with additional military land warrants purchased from those who cared nothing for them, and who did not care to emigrate westward.

From a memorandum tacked to an abstract furnished Frank Greeson, residing in Cottonwood Twp., Cumberland Co., Ill., and clearing title to said land he owns, I found the following note:

Washington D.C., Mar. 25, 1935---I hereby certify I have examined records of General land office and find the SE¼ of SW¼ Sec. 27 t. 11, R 8, E 3rd P.M., District of Vandalia, State of Illinois entered by Jesse Wright, Mar. 14, 1853 with M.B. Land Warrant # 48546, act of 1850. Patented to Jesse Wright of Cumberland Co., Ill., May 2, 1854. Patent recorded Vol. 82, page 439. Patent in file G.L.O.

It is believed likely Jesse Wright lived on this farm as it lay one half mile west of Johnstown, Ill., and it is known, his son-in-law's---the Hill's, lived their first year, after coming to this new county, one half mile west of the village of Johnstown. However, as of date, June 15, 1955, from the National Archives and Records Service, Wash., D.C., a note which states:

"Records show that Jesse Wright used U.S. Military Bounty Land warrant 48546 for 40 acres issued under the act of Sept. 28, 1850 to locate land described in memorandum--(above)--Wright, however, did not perform the Military Service for which this warrant was issued. He obtained possession of it by assignment from Stephen Clay, who was issued the warrant for his service as a "Private in Captain Haden's Co., Virginia Militia, War of 1812." Whether other acreage bought in this county by Jesse Wright was purchased with Bounty Land Warrants I cannot say at present."

According to my mother, Arlena (Hill) Landrus, great granddaughter of Jesse Wright, Jesse Wright was father of six daughters and one son. This has been verified by the census of Monroe Co., Ind., of 1850 and the marriage records of the same county.

Children:

4-2 Lucinda Wright, b. 1817, d. Oct. 15, 1865.
4-3 Mahala Wright, b. 1819, d. after 1860.
4-4 Elizabeth Wright, b. Dec. 23, 1823, d. Apr. 14, 1888.
4-5 Tabitha Wright, b. Dec. 3, 1827, d. Dec. 19, 1891.
4-6 Francis Marion Wright, b. 1833, d. Dec. 29, 1875.
4-7 Susan Wright, b. Dec. 30, 1835, d. Dec. 30, 1883.

The burial place of Lucinda (Wright) Whisenand and Elizabeth (Wright) Hill is in Old Gordon graveyard in Coles Co., Illinois not far from Farmington, Ill., close by where rests the father and step-mother of Abraham Lincoln, Thomas and Sarah Bush Lincoln.

At this date (1955) I have not been able to locate the resting place of 4-3, Mahala (Wright) Whisenand, wife of George Whisenand. Old Wright cemetery was the favorite burying ground of this Johnstown, Illinois, community of that day and many of our relatives are buried there. But too, the old Gordon graveyard was much used at that time and of later dates the Whisenand family were buried there, as was George Whisenand's second wife, Elizabeth (McGuire) Whisenand (1888) the widow of George's brother, Peter.

According to the abstracts on the old George Whisenand farm I find the notation: George and Mahala Whisenand: Sold land, Feb. 19, 1856. Too, she was entered in the census of Cumberland Co., Ill., in 1860. The next entry where George Whisenand sold land was 1870 and he was married to a Elizabeth (McGuire) Whisenand. On the same abstract in adm. of estate, it states George Whisenand died on or about Jan. 1, 1875. I can find no gravestones inscribed for this couple but have to believe they are buried at Wright cemetery as are so many others of this family. It is known they lived here and died here. They were not keeping death records in 1855 or 1860. But in 1879 or 1880 they were then recorded, but the County Court house of Cumberland Co., burned in 1885 and so destroyed all records prior to date of fire.

Neither have I been able to establish identity of Jesse Wright's sixth daughter. I have followed many leads all to no avail for now. I will greatly appreciate hearing from any source concerning relationship to Jesse and Susanna Wright, who were living in Monroe County, Indiana in Feb. 1849.

This record is compiled from census record of Monroe Co., Ind., year of 1850. References of Mrs. Grace Price, granddaughter of Lucinda and John Whisenand; inscriptions on tombstones at Old Gordon graveyard and marriage records at Bloomington, Ind. Also verified in part by Norris-Best book of genealogy, and Coles County History of 1878.

4-2 Lucinda Wright, daughter of Jesse and Susanna Wright was born in Monroe Co., Ind., in 1817 and died Oct. 15, 1865. She was married to John Whisenand in Monroe Co., Ind., on Jan. 19, 1833. John was born on Nov. 10, 1810 in Washington Co., Va., When John was a boy, his parents, Jacob W. Whisenand, a soldier of the Revolutionary War, and Rebecca moved from Va., to Ind., where some years later he and Lucinda Wright were married. In the autumn of 1850, John and Lucinda moved to Cumberland Co., Ill., purchasing land in that county, where they engaged in farming until 1855, when he sold out his interest and moved to Collin Co., Texas.

Where they lived for one year. They were well pleased with the country and possibly would have stayed in Texas, but circumstances were against them. Mr. Whisenand had sold his interests here on time and a financial panic was threatening, so he returned to Ill., with his family to attend to his business. He finally decided to remain in Cumberland Co., and bought a farm on the south side of Coles-Cumberland county line two miles east of the present Janesville, Illinois. Lucinda and John were members of the Methodist churdh. They had four children, only two surviving. After Lucinda's death, John Whisenand married a Susan (Bradford) Matthews, who's husband had died in the Civil War. They were parents of four children, only two surviving, James and John. After Susan's death, he married a third time, a widow, Sarah Russell. No children. John Whisenand died in 1881. He and Lucinda (Wright) Whisenand are buried at Old Gordon cemetery near Janesville, Ill., Coles Co. John was a very successful farmer and stock raiser, and acquired considerable land, his son, Andrew, followed in his footsteps.

Children of John and Lucinda (Wright) Whisenand:

5-1 Andrew Jackson Whisenand, b. Apr. 3, 1839, d. 1929.
5-2 Semilda Ellen Whisenand, b. Dec. 20, 1844, d. Jan. 20, 1891.

5-1 Andrew Whisenand, son of John and Lucinda (Wright) Whisenand, b. in Monroe Co., Ind., Apr. 3, 1839, d. at Charleston, Ill., in 1929. In 1850, Andrew came to Cumberland Co., Ill., with his parents where he remained until 1855 when he went to Texas for one year. In 1855 he returned to Cumberland Co., where he engaged in farming and was very prosperous and successful. In Feb. 1868 Andrew was married to Mary A. Best, daughter of Robert T. and Elizabeth (Norris) Best, on Sept. 28, 1846 in Coles Co., Ill. In 1871, Andrew moved with his family to Pleasant Grove Twp., Coles Co., Ill., buying 200 acres of rich farm land where he lived until 1902. Mary (Best) Whisenand d. June 4, 1877. Burial place, Old Gordon cemetery, near Farmington, Ill. On Jan. 19, 1878 Andrew was married to Mary E. "Libby" Harwood, a daughter of Ephriam and Margaret Harwood, early pioneers of lower Coles Co. Libby was born on Dec. 18, 1852, in Butler Co., Ohio. In 1902, Andrew and Libby Whisenand retired from active farm life, moving to Charleston, Ill., where they lived the remainder of their lives. They had no children. Burial place, Mound cemetery, Charleston, Ill.

Children of Andrew and Mary (Best) Whisenand:

6-1 Cora Whisenand, b. Nov. 9, 1869, d. Sept. 27, 1922.
6-2 William Whisenand, b. Apr. 15, 1874, d. Sept. 1, 1928.
6-3 Elizabeth Whisenand, b. Sept. 16, 1871, d. Apr. 1947.

Corrall Junction, Jasper Co., Mo., on Front, Reno, Mo., Reno, Christian Co., Mo., Oct. 8, 1889.
Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, Dear Friends, I have thought for some time I would write you but was not certain of your address. You will be sorry to learn Jesse was killed Aug. 6, by an explosion in the Reno Mills. He lived about nine hours. I thought you would see an account of it in the St. Louis paper, but as I have not heard from you, I have come to the conclusion, you did not. I have four children, one boy and three girls. This leaves us well and hope it finds you the same. I remain, your sister, Florence E. Whisenand.

Ebb Whisenand, nephew of Jesse Whisenand, added this bit of information. Jesse Whisenand owned and operated a large sawmill at or near Springfield, Mo. He was going from man to man trying to get a bit more speed--- as speed was essential in this business and arrived at the boiler room just as it exploded. "It killed the boiler man and Jesse Whisenand. We lost touch with uncle Jesse's family after that, I am sorry to say." No further record or communication so far as known.

6-5 Barbara Inas Fudge, daughter of David and Elizabeth (Whisenand) Fudge, was born near Johnstown, Ill., on May 3rd, 1859, and was married to Lafayette, called "Fay" Martin, ca 1879. Fay was born July, 1855 near Toledo, Ill., the Martin family having emigrated to Cumberland Co., Ill., from Tenn., and Ky. Barbara was considered a very beautiful girl, an unusually hard working and resourceful woman. It is told they had nine boys all in a row and every Sunday morning Barbara took her nine boys to Sunday School, and if sometimes they broke up the service, no one seemed to mind, and the next Sunday she was back with them again. Barbara's old neighbor's speak of her as one of the sweetest women they ever knew, fine and kind, and tolerant.

Fay Martin was a farmer and lived in various parts of Cumberland and Coles Co., Ill. In 1904, they moved from Illinois to Hamilton, Co., Texas, as Fay said, to escape high farm rent and to secure a large farm for his growing family. In 1906 he left Hamilton Co., moving into Erath Co., near Hico, Texas, where he purchased 600 acres of land and went into the ranching business and became very successful with grain, cotton and stock raising. Mr. Martin was a Mason and Fay and Barbara were members of the Church of Christ. Fay was referred to by the Rev. Nichols as, "the man who always left the latch string on the outside and on the inside was your home." Conservative, but generous, and never known to turn one who was in trouble, away. He was a resourceful and rugged individual, quick to anger, as quick to forgive.

Four of the Martin children became teachers, some attended college and have been quite a credit to Texas. They are a pleasing and gifted family.

After moving to Texas more children were born to Fay and Barbara until they were parents of 15 children. One through seven were born in Cumberland Co., Ill., near the small village of Croake. Eight through twelve were born in Coles Co., in the Trilla neighborhood. Number fourteen in Hamilton Co., Texas. Number fifteen in Erath Co., Texas.

It has been a task collecting data on this large and scattered family and is furnished by Mrs. Will Martin of Corpus Christi, Texas.

Mrs. Will Martin writes:

"The Martin family Bible with Barbara's records burned years ago in a fire that destroyed their home about 1912. I helped Barbara prepare a new record which blew away in the cyclone in which both she and Fay Martin lost their lives.."

I am told Barbara lost her life trying to persuade Mr. Martin to go to a cyclone cellar and which he refused to do as he had no conception of Texas cyclones. They had only just retired from the ranch and moved into the town of Ivan, Texas.

The clipping from a Texas newspaper states:

"A tornado struck the tiny of town of Ivan in the hills of Stephens County, Sunday. The twister approached from the west, hopping hills, slicing off trees even with the earth and stripping chickens of feathers before it roared into the hamlet.

The storm swept the countryside for two or three miles and cut off communications for some time. Three residences were crushed and others damaged badly. Dead were: E.F. Martin, 83, and Mrs. Martin, 79, a prominent couple trapped in their home in the storms center. Martin was a retired ranchman.

The storm was first sighted by 10 persons, half a mile over the hills from Ivan. The dark, funnel-shaped cloud, rising and dipping over the ranch country, then rushed toward the house, but the party ran into their cellar."

A note from the County Recorder of Stephens County, Texas states:

"Death records show, Barbara Inas Martin, May 22, 1938, accidental death due to cyclone or storm. Burial in Hico, Texas, Killed in Ivan, Texas. Mr. Martin was taken to the hospital in Graham, Texas, where he died. Graham is the County Seat of Young County."

An additional note from Texas Vital Statistics noted:

They have lived in Corpus Christi, Texas since 1918 and at present are living at 1116 Craig St., Corpus Christi. Mr. Martin is a carpenter and contractor and at present is retired. He is a member of the Stephensville IOOF Lodge # 337, and has been since 1910. He is an inveterate reader and enjoys card games. He moved to Texas from Cumberland Co., Ill., with his parents and as a youngster recalls some lively escapades that transpired here. Once his great uncle Robert Cather visited his family and Robert, as the favorite uncle of the various children had sang them an old doggrel of the day and popular with the children.

"Old Dan Tucker, he's the man
Washes his face in the frying pan,
Combs his hair with a wagon wheel
And died with the toothache in his heel.

Old Dan Tucker, he got drunk
He jumped in the fire and kicked out a chunk,
A coal of fire got his shoe,
And oh lawd!-- a mighty how the ashes flew."

So, not to be outdone, young Will dropped a coal of fire in his Uncle Bob's boot just before he donned it. Needless to surmise--- the ashes flew again.

Beulah (Basham) Martin has many hobbies. One is writing poetry, a task she has been at for over fifty years, and will soon be published in a book. Recently, five of her poems were printed in an Anthology of poetry entitled Important American poets and Song Writors. One poem is being set to music and Poetry Digest has asked permission to print a favorite, The Stranger. Among her first poems is one dealing with the assination of President McKinley and written Sept. 6, 1901.

Among her best known are "The Stranger", "The Brain Attic", "We're no Sap, Mr. Jap", written during war II, when two of her sons were in the Armed Forces, one stationed in Cuba, one in Alaska. "The Evil of Strong Drink," written when Beulah was 12, and"Sunrise on Corpus Christi Bay." Born in Oklahoma , Beulah moved to Hico, Texas with her parents at the age of two, and to Corpus Christi in 1918, where, much like a dyed-in-the-wool native she writes:

"When our God was painting nature
With it's beauty to unfold
He stopped in Corpus Christi
For the Sunrise, I am told.

Yes, God's great hand did some painting
And the beauty's here to stay
Where no thrill excells the sunrise
Over Corpus Christi bay."

Beulah is a member of the National Grandmothers Club Charter 44, and of the Navy Mother's club, also of the Rebekah Lodge. She and Will are members of the Central Church of Christ since 1912. But according to the postal card from Jesse Whisenand's widow to Rebecca Thompson, in 1889, the Thompsons were living in St. Louis, Mo., and Ebb Whisenand adds a bit to that. Jim was quite successful in a business way although he shot off his right hand when only 13 years of age. His sister, Winnie Hamman, writes of him: "James was one of the finest, jolliest, best natured men I ever knew. No one ever heard him howling about the loss of his hand. He made a wonderful living for his family and is missed dreadfully, not only by relatives but by his hosts of friends."
I learned a bit more of James Enoch Hill from his wife, Linnie. She writes: "Jim and I were only back to visit the Hill relatives once, and that was on a rather hurried visit. We went to see your mother, Lena (Hill) Landrus, and had a lovely visit with her. This was in 1937, I am sure. Jim passed away in 1945 and we had always planned to come to Illinois again, but never got to it as the war came on so soon. We visited one night with Grace (Hill) Davis and Maude (Hill) Fisher. We also visited with Ross Hill and his family and had a wonderful time. Another of the Hill girls was ill and we learned later, she passed away the next year. Jim was always sorry we didn't take time to go there and visit a little while. I wish I could drop in on you for a visit and talk of the family instead of writing, but I'm a little too far away. I understand Jim's mother and father, Ann (Gowin) and Basil Hill moved to Neb., when Jim was only a small child. There his father died or they had moved over to Missouri, and Basil died there, leaving Ann (Gowin)

Hill with four small children. Clifton, Orie, Winnie and Jim. They moved then to Litchfield, Neb., to be close to Ann (Gowin) Hill's brother, Enoch Gowin, where the family grew up. When Jim was 13 years old he and a friend named Ingleman, were out hunting and Jim shot at a hawk. When he pulled the trigger the gun exploded in his hand. It mangled the right arm and hand terribly and he had to walk three miles to get home. Then they had to harness a team and drive two miles to get a Dr. The loss of blood and shock was bad. They had to operate and remove the hand and part of the arm. Jim was a wonderful person and everyone loved him. You wrote me that from an old picture of your mother's, I appear to be red-headed and freckled. Not so. My hair was brown and I have blue eyes.

The Hedden family came from Vincennes, Ind., on the Wabash river, Mrs. Ollie (Hedden) Hutton of near Bradbury, Ill., tells me: "My father, Beniah Hedden, son of John and Mary Catherine (Sprott) Hedden was the eldest of six children. Nannie Hedden, the youngest, married Douglas Hill, of near Webster school. The Hedden children were all born in Ind., except Nannie, as my father told repeatedly about the terrible climate in the damp Wabash country, and never once in their years there, did they escape the chills and fevers and suffered them from October to May, and their entire family died of consumption, except Nannie, born in Ill., and had better health. The children, lived to be grown and married and left children but were never strong and so succumbed to the dreaded plague that seemed to hover like a miasmic vapor over every home. John Hedden is buried at Old Gordon cemetery, I have been told many times, Mary Catherine (Sprott) Hedden was the first person to be buried in the New Gordon cemetery,at Janesville. My father, Beniah, moved when I was five years old to Ellory, Ill., in Wayne Co., in southern Illinois. Once, I remember Uncle Douglas and Aunt Nannie Hill came to visit us. Charles attended the Charleston Normal School and University of Illinois, where he majored in Chemistry. He was married and went to Fayetteville, Ark., and taught Chemistry two years at the University there. At the close of the second school term Charles received an offer from Westinghouse to go to Pittsburgh, Pa., as a research chemist for their company. An offer which Charles accepted.

He was with them 31 years, retiring last Aug. 12, 1954. On his 67th birthday. Their daughter met her husband, Joe, also a chemist, in Pittsburgh, and they now live in South Carolina. Lewis Hill, married Alice Josephine Gowin, born on March 26, 1854 in Davie Co., North Carolina. They were married in 1873. Lewis had purchased the license and with Alice had gone to the J.P's house to be married. When they asked his whereabouts, the J.P's wife pointed to the timber and said: "There---cuttin' wood." The young couple walked to the scene of the labor and there the Justice read the marriage service over them, the church walls the softly, moving green of the timber trees, the roof, a canopy of changing green and blue shadow of tree and sky. Lewis and Alice (Gowin) Hill are buried at Wright cemetery near Johnstown, Ill., in Coles Co. They attended the Baptist and Christian church. Lewis was a J.P., for over 30 years and married many couples and some hilarious tales are told of his devious ways and management. A few times he held hearings in his home in his capacity of J.P. He was a member of the Johnstown or Clear Creek IOOF Lodge since ca 1883. # 712. A good bit of Lewis Hill's pathway was over stony ways. His wife died at the age of 28, leaving four small children. It happened in 1928, yet the west was still the west, with no telephones, only telegraph, and the doctor, 50 odd miles away.

7-10 Jesse Morton Landrus, youngest son of Taylor and Lena (Hill) Landrus, b. near Bradbury, Ill., Cumberland Co. Feb. 10, 1909. Single. Jesse served with the 835th Engrs., for three and half years, during World War II, always close to the front lines. He was a Sgt., and in speaking of his travels, he said: "Only a few more miles, as miles go, and I'd have been around the world." It seems trivial to try to record anything any soldier done during this World War II, as so many millions were doing the same things, some more heoric and spectacular, perhaps, if anything done to protect life and limb and country under stress and strain can be called spectacular. But for this record, I will note two incidents, Jesse spoke of. One---the day while busy laying down an airstrip his group beheld a cloud of German parachutists floating down upon them. Against the blue sky, the parachutes much resembled the white covers of the pioneers wagons as Coles Co., poet, George Balch referred to them in his poem: The Pioneers.

"Like schooners floating on the bay---
Their sails, neatly spread---
Whose covers swelling with the breeze,
Appeared like sails upon the sea."

But this was grim war. The men dropped tools, grabbed guns and rushed forth. He didn't speak of any killed, but "my group" captured many German parachutists on that one morning.

The second indident was one that happened and of which we all have read. I remember reading and hearing of this tragedy during the war, little knowing my brother was at this station. It was a vital point of industry these bombers were going to bomb. The plan was made perfect and fool proof apparently by a model city being built and the Air Group briefed until every detail was perfect. No one knew exactly what happened, but was tragedy all the way around. The pilots became confused and choas followed. Bombers came in too low and were bombed in turn by their own group. "Our planes were falling every which way, blasted by our own men." Jesse lives at Madison, Ill., and has been an employee of the Nickle Plate railroad since sixteen years of age, except for the Army years. Jesse is a staunch Democrat.

"Then let the cannon hush it's roar,
The drums beat war alarms no more,
Let swords be sheathed or idly rust,
And ramparts mouler back to dust.
Let mothers quell their rising fears,
And still their hearts and dry their tears;
Until Columbia's land shall ring,
For battle fields no more shall be,
And peace shall flow from sea to sea."

George Balch.

Cumberland Co., came into being in 1843, barely nine years before Alice's advent into the world. It was a green wilderness and sodden desolate prairie combined where the wolves howled and rattlesnakes coiled and owls and other varmints were a daily menace to be met and conquered.
Alice Hill was endowed with a warm, motherly personality so closely associated with the Wright family. Once my mother wrote on the back of a picture of Alice (Hill) Barger, "Aunt Alice Barger, the only aunt we Hill girls have had for years, in this state. She has been a mother to us, that is why we all love her so much." Alice lived to see many changes come to the county where she was born and lived all her life. She saw the wilderness tamed and cleared, saw the heaving mass of prairie grass yield to the plow, and the sodden land drained. Good schools, new churches and good roads built. On Sept. 25, 1870, Alice Hill married James Washington Barger, b. in Va., on May 31, 1840. d. Dec. 22, 1902. Alice was a member of the Shiloh Presbyterian church, was also an Eastern Star. 7-2 Roger Icenogle, b. Feb. 1, 1930, married Phyllis Marian Cordes June 9, 1951. Phyllis b. Sept. 15, 1931 near Toledo, Ill. Roger has just returned from armed service overseas.

5-3 Seymour William Garren, son of William and Susan (Wright) Garren, b. near Johnstown on his grandfather, Jesse Wright's farm, Dec. 27, 1869. d. July 4, 1917. Married Elizabeth Greeson, a daughter of Sydney and Nan (Meyers) Greeson, b. Oct. 3, 1879, d. Dec. 1, 1916. Seymour and "Sis" as she was called, lived all their married life on the old Wright farm and reared their two children there. Many years ago their farm home burned and now large trees are growing within the foundation walls on which their spacious white farm home stood. Seymour and Sis attended the U.B. church and are buried in Boles cemetery near Trilla, Ill. Seymour studied law, also read the Bible and upon his death, left many pages of written theories concerning law passages and verses of note in the Bible. He served as J.P., of Cottonwood Twp., and married many young couples. It is told he would loan the local swains money to marry on, then perform the ceremony. He also served as Supervisor and was keenly interested in the progress of the community and in the well-being of his fellow man. This writer, in my search for family, have gone into every nook and cranny of Johnstown and surrounding community and in visiting with Seymour's old friends, and neighbors, I have never encountered so well loved a personage as Seymour Garren. Even today, so many years after his death, the love and esteem live on, and what greater gift can man ask of the parents and community that bore him, than the universal love of his very own. It will be long before Johnstown produces another native son as well loved as Seymour, son of Susan (Wright) Garren.

Children:

6-1 Floy Garren, b. Aug. 27, 1896 and was married Jan. 11, 1914 to Fred Russell of Johnstown, Ill., b. July 19, 1896. They live on the Greeson home place just west of the village of Johnstown. Fred was employed as street car conductor in Mattoon for several years. Was later employed by the Berkowitz fruit and vegetable wholesale company until he was retired.

Children:

7-1 Cora Russell, b. July 14, 1914. Single.

7-2 Francis Edna Russell, b. Sept. 24, 1918, married on June 1, 1946 to Roy Danforth, b. July, 1917. Roy is with the REA of Newton, Ill., a local boy and has a responsible position, being in charge of material to build, operate and maintain an entire REA to bring electricity to the rural areas; a vision so immense I fear our ancestors had no conception of the joy and comfort REA has brought us. Francis is a school teacher of 14 years standing. No children.

6-2 Jesse Glen Garren, son of Seymour and Elizabeth (Greeson) Garren., b. Mar. 30, 1899. Single.

5-4 Minnie Garren, daughter of Wm. and Susan (Wright) Garren, b. May 27, 1870, d. July 17, 1898. She married Thomas Thornton of Johnstown, Ill., a son of George and Lavina (Strader) Thornton, b. Mar. 12, 1865, d. Sept. 4, 1920. They attended the U.B. church.

Child:

6-1 Infant, perished. Minnie and Thomas are buried at Wright cemetery, Coles Co., Ill. Thomas did not re-marry. He was a carpenter and fairly successful. In Wright cemetery one can yet read the short verse Thomas had inscribed on his young wife's stone:

"A lovely one from us is taken,
A voice we loved is silenced.
A place is vacant in our home and church
That never can be filled."

5-5 Lenna Garren, son of Wm. and Susan (Wright) Garren, b. Oct. 26, 1873, d. Nov. 23, 1874.

By Mrs. Mary Evans Wright, Maryville, Missouri.

3-8 Benjamin Wright, Jr., son of Benjamin and Barbara Wright, was born on Apr. 18, 1794, in Randolph Co., N.C., d. in Cumberland Co., Ill., Sept. 4, 1866. Married Oct. 26, 1816 in Randolph Co., North Carolina, to Mary called "Polly" Hill. She was a sister of Thomas Hill, who married Sarah Wright, Benjamin's sister.

Mary was born Apr. 4, 1800, d. Sept. 30, 1846 in Putnam Co., Ind. She was buried on the home farm in a cemetery created in 1838 when her eldest son died. Benjamin served in the war of 1812. His record says: "Ben Wright enlisted from Randolph Co., N.C., on Nov. 28, 1814 and served as a private in Cap't., John Ransour's Co., of N.C. Militia until Feb. 22, 1815. Discharge not dated. Pay per month, $8.00 number of days returning home. 14 days Am't. of Pay rec'd, $15.74. He was living in Putnam Co., Ind., in 1850. In 1855, was residing in Cumberland Co., Ill., age 61 years. He was allowed bounty land in full satisfaction for his services. Benjamin and Mary (Hill) Wright, moved with other relatives from N.C., to Putnam Co., Ind., in 1822. Here they settled on a farm in Madison Twp., on Little Walnut Creek, west of Greencastle, Ind., five miles north of Reelsville, Ind. This was their home until a few years after Mary's death, when he sold the farm to his son, William Wright, and moved to Ill. This farm is still in possession of William Wright's grandson, Raymond T. Wright.

Benjamin Wright was a Justice of Peace for many years in Putnam Co., Ind. His grandson says he married many couples in his cornfield, if they came while he was working.

The marriage record of Benjamin Wright, Jr., and Mary "Polly" Hill, was obtained from North Carolina Historical Commission, Raleigh, N.C., from the Randolph Co., Marriage Bonds, Box W.
Children of Benjamin and Mary (Hill) Wright:

14. Lucinda Wright, b. July 16, 1839, d. Mar. 15, 1932.

Much of the above data was collected by U.S. Wright of Maryville, Mo., son of Simeon Wright. U.S., moved to Albuquerque, New Mexico, in 1934. U.S. Wright was born in Nodaway Co., Mo., June 22, 1865 a son of Simeon and Sarilda Jane (Swinford) Wright. In trying to discover my ancestor's true identity, I contacted Mr. Wright, in New Mexico, also Mrs. Mary Evans Wright, of Maryville, Mo., and Mrs. Osee (Johnson) Knouf, of LaGrange, Ill., who have been very helpful to a stranger, who after all these many years, burst into their midst saying: "I am a great great grand-daughter of Benjamin Wright, who is buried at old Wright cemetery. I have his tombstone and grave and land placement and kin prove it. What have you?"

I hope it didn't sound quite so brash, but from their several letters I have been able to piece a little of the story together of Benjamin Wright's 14 years at Johnstown, Illinois, Cumberland County.

Born in 1794, he was 58 years of age when he came to this section of the country, where the water stood on the prairie, all was virgin timber on the slopes. His 40 acres, purchased July 11, 1853, E½ NE¼ of Sec. 33, t. 11, R 8, N. of 3rd P.M., was on the dank prairie one and half mile south west of Johnstown. Most of the children migrated on farther west and spread out over Missouri and points west.

I contacted Daisy Richardson, the 13th , the child of Lucinda (Wright) Richardson, who was the 14th child of Benjamin Wright. As U.S. Wright, grandson of Benjamin Wright, who is buried at Wright cemetery and Osee (Johnson) Knouf, are the only two with whom I have corresponded at length, I will dwell only a moment on the back ground of these two. U.S. Wright is now living in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

U.S. Wright helped organize and open Wright Bros., bank in Parnelle, Mo., in 1888, where he was active in the business until 1910, when he sold his interests and moved to Maryville, Mo. He has served as Mayor of Maryville, and was very active as a Mason. He became a Mason in Gaynor City Lodge No. 365, in 1889. He is a Knights Templar, 32nd degree Mason and a Shriner. He has his 50 year medal and in 1955 will complete his 66th year as a Mason. He has served as Master High Priest, Commander, and all intermediate stations.

* Osee (Johnson) Knouf, b. Mar. 18, 1897, Numa, Iowa, attended Drake University on a scholarship from Seymour High School, 1915-1918. She taught in Appanoose Co., Iowa, 1918-1922. Received a B.S. degree from Iowa State College, in Home Economics, June 9, 1924. She married on June 11, 1924, Ralph J. Knouf at Ames, Iowa. Osee taught in Union Vocational school in Schenectady, New York, in 1924 and 1925. Her hobby is genealogy and has compiled the Knouf, Russell, Johnson, Dyball and three volumes of Wright history. They live at LaGrange, Ill. Osee has been very kind, tolerant and helpful to me in my blind search, passing on to me, ways, means and even writing for information for me. She is Regent of her DAR

*(Note: Osee (Johnson) Knouf is not a descendant of Benjamin Wright, Jr. but of his sisters, Sarah (Wright) Hill and Martha (Wright) Moss. For details see her manuscript, "WRIGHT FAMILY, VOL.I.")

Chapter for this year and her contacts, methods and store of information gleaned from 20 years work had been a wonderful aid, indeed.

Notes: The depression ruined a lot of Wright's as well as millions of others, and old Benjamin's grandson's were no exception. U.S. Wright (my correspondent) was a bank President, when still young man, his Uncle , Larkin, and sons were bankers, and after the depression and the recuperation of the banks, they returned to their chosen professions. But U.S., already of retirement age, retired and in 1934 moved to Albuquerque, New Mexico, to round out his life amid mellow sunshine and cactus. He is still living, hale and hearty at 90 years. All of these Wrights love research and have contributed to the history of the Wright family by Osee (Johnson) Knouf and Lillie (Wright) Lane White.

Mr. U.S. Wright sent me a picture of his grandfather, Benjamin, which I have had reproduced. Daisy Richardson writes of the day the likeness was "taken". "Grandfather went into the little studio in his shirt sleeves, as the day was hot. The photographer says, 'just slip into this coat,' so that is why he has the coat on. My mother always spoke of her father as being such a tolerant, understanding and just person. And I know my mother was."

Mr. U.S. Wright wrote me in one of his early letters: "I was born in Nodaway Co., Mo., June 22, 1865 and will be 90 my next birthday. I have worked at this family research business a long time, almost 65 years, and have accumulated a lot of material. That has been my hobby. It is very interesting but takes a lot of time, patience and plain hard work."

I'm sorry to say, I have little patience, and later as I was still under the delusion, I was great great grand-daughter of Benjamin, Mr. Wright wrote his sister-in-law, Mrs. H.W. Wright, in Maryville, Mo.: "I believe Mrs. Misenhimer is the most confused person I ever saw, concerning her ancestors. I hope to help her get straightened out. She cannot be one of Benjamin's great great grand-daughters." (I find it is easier to get confused than straightened out.) He wrote me: "I am nearing 90, but still do my own typing and read headlines without glasses, also the news, except very fine print. I am using the same glasses I bought in 1910. I have new ones, purchased this year but are no improvement on the 1910 model only in appearance. I wonder what date you were born in 1903. My only son was born in July 1903. He is married, has two children and is in the Internal revenue Dep't., with Uncle Sam. I have four daughters, one son, 9 grandchildren, and 14 great grandchildren at the present time." (Oct. 1954.)

I do not know what ailment Benjamin died of, nor does it matter, but he passed to just reward and I wish I could record a bit more of his life in this raw county of Cumberland in 1852. The last notation I have is from the county abstract office. Thomas Wright was made adm., of Benjamin Wright's estate in Nov. 1870. The 40 acre farm was sold to John Dare on Feb. 6, 1872. His family went on to become ministers, bankers, teachers, stenographers, accountants, and soldiers, a lasting and continuing tribute to their ancestor, Benjamin Wright.

On Feb. 12, 1955 U.S. wrote: "I have five children and 9 grandchildren and 15 great grandchildren living at this time and another on the way for March delivery. Grandfather Benjamin J. Wright (Jr) was father of 15 by first wife and four by second wife. I tallied 84 grandchildren and may not have them all. Richard Wright Jr., had 24 children and he a Baptist minister. James Benjamin had 21, also a preacher, in Illinois. Wow! No wonder there are so many Wrights. I imagine there are millions and some in all parts of the Globe. My grandson, Robert Wesley Blagg (b. Feb. 5, 1933) now in the Navy, is getting married to day in Glen Falls, N.Y., to Doris Arlene Stewart and will reside at 503 N. Edison St., Arlington, Va. Thanks a million for everything, and good luck and best wishes, respectfully yours, U.S. Wright."

Lucinda Wright, was 15 years old when she came to Cumberland Co., Ill. Five years later she was married to James Richardson, a brother of Ira and Dick Richardson, sons of Betsy (Boles) Richardson Meyers. As Lucinda was the only child of Benjamin's who lived and married at Johnstown, Ill., I was interested in her and life here.

Daisy, James Richardson's only living and 12th child writes to her uncle, U.S. Wright:

"I remember my mother telling of the cyclone in Ill., there were two children with my mother, my father, James, had gone to town and she saw the storm coming and knew would be a bad one. They lived in a log house, and she looked about for shelter and tried to get the oldest child to crawl under the bed. He wouldn't, so she ran outside and with the two children, went into the cellar, a makeshift affair for butter and milk and not tall enough to stand up-right in."

Note: Frank Greeson, son of Nan (Meyers) Greeson, who was a half sister of James Richardson, tells me, he believes James and Lucinda Richardson lived a short distance south of Effingham, Ill., at a small place called, Mason, recalls hearing James tell of the devastation of the cyclone. James was away and came rushing home as the storm abated to find everything demolished about the place and no sign of life. He ran about among the ruins of the log house shouting Lucinda's name. Presently he heard a small voice coming from the cellar---"Pa, we're in here, we're in the cellar," and there they were, safe and sound.

"After the storm was over she came out. The house was no more, everything they had plus house was blown away," wrote Daisy.

"My mother had a hard time, when father was away to the Civil War. They had two children by then, and she cared for them and raised a garden for their food and got along as best she could as so many others were doing.

"My mother lost three children while living at Johnstown, Elizabeth, died age five, Ida, and another infant, un-named. All are buried at Wright cemetery, but have no markers."

What year James Richardson took his family and moved on west I do not know, but I presume about 1868 or 1869, as my father says he has no recollection of James Richardson, and thought perhaps they had left this vicinity. Floy tells me, as has others, of James' craze over horses, and added drink to his love of horse-trading, and so dragged his family westward where no doubt they endured untold hardship sharing the lot of a horse trader plus a mounting number of babies to care for.

They settled awhile at least, in Neb., for Daisy, the youngest, was born there on Jan. 13, 1881, and where occured a snake story and scare that U.S. Wright thought would "hold me awhile."

James and Lucinda had taken a claim out on the prairie in Neb., not far from where Lincoln, Neb., is now situated. Lucinda had a young baby, Richard, born Apr. 10, 1875. But as U.S., dryly wrote, "the snake never got him." Lucinda had nursed the baby and tucked it to sleep and covered it over and went on to her washing. After some time, she heard the baby fussing and went to see what was chafing the youngster. When she lifted the cover, there snugly coiled against the baby for warmth, was a six foot sleepy-eyed rattler. Lucinda snatched the baby up and ran screaming into the yard where she could see James plowing prairie sod not too far away. He ran to the house and killed the snake.

But the trader's itch finally was James' un-doing. He abandoned his family in Neb., when Daisy was only a few weeks or months old, leaving Lucinda with 7 children. Lucinda moved to Mo., where she raised her family.

"My mother was a wonderful woman," writes her daughter, Daisy. And I can well believe it. There was never any bend or stoop to Lucinda's slender shoulders. In a picture I was privileged to see, recently, at 81 years of age, she stood there, tall, slender and straight as a willow withe. I took the picture to Floy who's grandmother, Nan, was a half sister of James Richardson and Floy agreed, hard times hadn't bowed her shoulders. Her face was oddly round, even at 81, looked young and girlish and in youth must have been a very beautiful girl.

In the picture, of Daisy and her mother, Daisy wrote: "When the picture was taken, my mother was 51 years of age." Daisy was a very pretty little girl, with the round face of her mother, Lucinda.

James, off on his traders rounds stopped at a ranch to ask for a night's lodging....in the morning he was found dead in his bed. No doubt he lies in an un-marked grave on the Nebraska prairie.

Later, I received another letter from Daisy Richardson; she wrote:

"You asked what year my folks came west from Johnstown. I have to go by the dates in the Bible. My brother, Joe, was the last child born in Ill, and he was born 1866. When they got west, a girl was born in 1869. They left Ill, between the years of 1866 and 1869.

In regards to the cyclone, there must have been two, as my mother had two children whenshe rushed to the cellar to save them. My oldest brother was born 1861, and he was three years old, and she carried the baby in her arms. So the cyclone must have been about 1864.

My mother had six children born in Ill. The oldest lived to be 6 years old and 2 others died in infancy. My mother used to worry so because they had no markers and the graves would be lost. I never knew any of my father's folks, but do recall mother speaking of a sister Emeline who married a Robert Gilliland, and too, I recall mother saying the Richardson's came from North Carolina."

The remaining section of this manuscript was intended as a history of the HILL FAMILY. But since it is made up almost entirely of descendants of those HILLS who married into the WRIGHT family, it is being included here, and later will be used as a separate history of the HILL family. The parts given in the WRIGHT section, are not repeated but referred to by page.

It should be noted that Benjamin Wright,Sr. had a son and a daughter marry into the HILL family, besides the four granddaughters whose record is found in this manuscript.

Data on the Hill family compiled by Mrs. Glen (Freda Landrus) Misenhimer.

Hill graves at Old Mount Salem cemetery, south of Bloomington, Indiana, Route 37.

These, I believe to be our forebears, father, mother and sister of our great great grandfather, Basil Hill.

Indiana census of 1820 lists Thomas Hill, head of the family. Two males 10 to 16; one female under 10; one female 45 and up. One male 26 to 45; one male 45 and up. Mellick, his wife, b. June 28, 1779. d. Oct. 14, 1854. Thomas Hill, b. Mar. 6, 1777, d. May 5, 1850.

Sophie Hill, b. June 19, 1814, d. Oct. 14, 1854. Sophie, according to those in the family who have even a faint recollection, recall hearing of Sophie, the daughter who never married. Hugh Hill, b. May 6, 1809.

From Mrs. Lura B. Emery of Bloomington, Indiana I received this note as to possible cause of death of Mellick and Sophia Hill.

"It was a year of cholera and typhoid in Indiana. Many families lost members a day or so apart and as in this instance, two in the same day."

A note received by this writer from Indiana State Library, states Thomas Hill was born in Maryland. I have no further information at this time.

Dickey wrote long ago:

"If the events of the past are buried
In the waste of ages, and there are no
Landmarks by which to trace the track of time,
And no means of understanding the influence's
Which have molded human destiny."

Basil Hill, born in Kentucky, 1802, d. Nov. 28, 1866, age 64 years, 5 months, 4 days. Married on Sept. 3, 1820 to Charity Wright, born Mar. 2, 1804, d. Feb. 8, 1876. Charity was a daughter of James Wright, grand-daughter of Richard Wright, Sr.

4-2 Charity Wright, b. Mar. 2, 1804, d. Feb. 8, 1876, daughter of James and Elizabeth (Sears) Wright, married Sept. 21, 1820, Basil Hill, b. June 25, 1802, d. Oct. 24, 1866. Basil was a farmer and lived near Smithville, Indiana and owned 300 acres of land, and was considered a very successful farmer.

Charity Wright, and her son, Hugh, lie buried at Harrodsburg cemetery near Harrodsburg, Indiana. Basil and son Isaac, are buried at Mount Salem cemetery south of Bloomington, Ind., just off Route 37 (1954).

5-1 Levi Hill, son of Basil and Charity (Wright) Hill, married on July 9, 1840, Elizabeth Wright, daughter of Jesse and Susanna Wright.

For details about them and their descendants, see pages 32 to 43 in this manuscript. Since they are listed in the descendants of Jesse Wright, they will not be repeated here.

5-2 Thomas Hill, son of Basil and Charity (Wright) Hill, b. Nov. 29, 1822, d. Feb. 1892. He married Elizabeth Mercer, called"Musser", of near Smithville, Ind., about 1843. Elizabeth was born Mar. 6, 1826, died Nov. 15, 1900. Both are buried in old Haggins cemetery near Bradbury, Cumberland Co., Illinois. Thomas and Elizabeth had three children born in Indiana as shown by 1850 census records of Monroe Co. Ind., one of whom perished. The parents migrated to Cumberland Co., Illinois, possibly in the fall of 1850, and bought land near Johnstown, Ill. But as did Levi Hill for the first winter, they lived a half mile west of Johnstown on the north side of the east and west road. Later, Thomas sold his first bought acreage that lay one half mile south of Johnstown, to his brother James, and bought land farther south on the prairie, a vast, swampy water covered swale where the early settlers could "hog" catfish by hand, in August, on the flat land, the prairie-blue-stem grass grew 10 to 12 feet high and was fairly alive with frogs, prairie rattlers, wolves and various other denizens of these flat lowlands. Apt to the period was a poem by George Balch, who lived on the same sort of prairie a few miles north of Thomas.

"And over the path where the pioneer toiled,
And the wild wolf screamed and the rattle snake coiled,
The long row of maples and the evergreen trees
Now wave their sweet boughs in the soft balmy breeze."

The prairie was not conquered by the plow until the late 1860's when James Barger sent back to Cincinnati for a "24" inch plow and with four to six yoke of exen he turned under the brushy rooted sod. The first homestead site of Thomas and Elizabeth (Mercer) Hill, where they built their first log cabin was the northwest corner S.E. Sec. 3, T 10, R. 8, E. 3rd P.M. Cottonwood Twp., Cumberland County and other tracts of land. in Indiana there had been a series of hard times and Thomas Hill worked in the timber to supply his small family with the necessities of life. It has been told how many days labor it took to buy little John Davis Hill, their first child, calico, for a dress. Many years later, long after John Davis was grown, he still cherished among his souvenirs, a sleeve of the little calico dress.

It has been thought Thomas Hill came to Illinois a year or so ahead of his identical twin brother, James, as the amusing story is told of John Davis and his "two paps" which bears out the truth of this theory.

One evening, coming in from play, John Davis found two men together in the room, both of whom he thought to be his father, frightened, he leaped behind the door and hid. When his mother came into the room, he caught her apron, pulling her behind the door, whispering in tragic tones, "I've got two paps." Mrs. Hill explained one of the men was his uncle James, his father's twin brother newly arrived from Indiana. John peeped out at them, then whispered again, "but which is my pap?" "For split second action in resetting his bomb sight after a direct hit on his plane, and striking the target, Lt. Rob't Cather of Fisher, Ill., Bombardier, was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross at a 15th Air Force Base in Italy. His citation reads: "By his outstanding professional skill and determination in overcoming adverse bombing conditions, Lt. Cather has reflected great credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States."

Lt. Cather told a 15th Air Force reporter---"About 10 miles from the target I took over control of the ship. Enemy flak was already coming. With two minutes to go, there was a loud crash and the plane seemed to leap high into the air. I saw the automatic pilot cables had been shot away by a direct hit and quickly ordered the pilot to take over and try to place the target. With 30 seconds to go I worked to reset the bomb sight, finally let the bombs go and ran to the window to see what I had hit. I didn't know if I had calculated right until I saw trucks flying through the air and great columns of smoke coming up."

Lt. Cather received his training at the Bombardiers school at Midland, Texas. He is a graduate of Mattoon High School and Eastern Illinois State Teachers college, at Charleston, Ill. The Cather's have one son, born at Brooke Gen. Hospital at San Antonio, Texas.

He was welcomed at any social event where entertainment was needed and enjoyed. He was always able to give recitations and any sort of declamations up to 25 and 30 verses without flaw or falter. He was still giving these lengthy versions at the age of 89 years. This Christmas time, the family tells Clement engaged in a bout of fisticuffs in the Assembly room at the IOOF Home. He was set upon by two bullies who were jealous because of Clements activities in the home garden, where he tended the growing vegetables and carried them to the kitchen for preparation for food. (Clement, well and active and enjoyed the work.) One old fellow struck at Clement, and Clement, no doubt thinking of early Johnstown, where first blow meant life and limb, or being slow was death, and destruction, rose, with an uppercut to the jaw of his adversary rolling him in a heap on the floor. About this time, a friend of the foe, dodged forward striking at Clement with his cane. Clement took the blow on his right forearm and struck with his left and piled number two on top of number one. Peace was restored and Clement retained his seat. The Hills are members of the Christian church and in the main, staunch Democrats, fighting for the right. Clement has been a member of IOOF Lodge Clear Creek, # 712 for many years.

They attended the Church of Christ.
Tom and Lizzie operated a large fruit farm near Neal, Ill. In later years he moved to Mattoon, Ill., where he grew small fruits and on a smaller scale.
This writer will never forget the acres of ripening fruit glistening in the sun; nor the luscious dew-berries, raspberries, strawberries, a delight to any eye, and Tom Morgan could grow them extremely well. On one occasion, while visiting the Morgan home, five or six of Lizzie's brood and the same number of my mother's, chanced into the deserted berry shed to discover crates of enormous dew-berries ready to send to market. Unmindful of chaos, we sat down in a circle about several crates and proceeded to fill our tummies. We must have been about sated with berries when Lizzie and my mother walked in. What a scramble! What a melee! My mother reached for a child with one hand and shilalah with the other when Lizzie spoke up with that unusual gentleness and tolerance I have so often found in the Wright descendants: "Lena, don't touch one of them. There are a lot of berries and they were hungry. What cheaper and easier way to feed them? Let them eat all they want."
In the early 1900's it was a tremendous task to get the fruit to market and Mattoon was a long 16 or 17 miles away. They must start long before dawn to beat the sun, the mud, the rain. In the fall, I can remember seeing the growing boys going past on frosty mornings, with loads of apples, their faces pinched by icy, raw winds. A salute to these hardy sons.

He was a farmer near Smithville, Ind., and was in the cattle business, with Hugh Hill, his brother-in-law. Their son, William Underwood, told me this summer (1954) the old Hill farm near Smithville, was built for his grandparents, Basil and Charity (Wright) Hill, in 1820 and to the date when they built the new house out on the road, no one but this one family had ever lived in this house. When Susan married Lafayette Underwood, they were married on the lawn in front of this house, and Mr. Underwood moved into it and they raised their family there, and so Susan never left the old Hill house. The house is still standing in the field. They had about 300 acres of rich, rolling lands and they grew lush wheat. One story Wm., told us, was they were harvesting the wheat and had all available space filled and still the wheat rolled in. They cleared a room and stored the wheat in it and it was full to the ceiling. As we stood there in the summer sunshine, William painted us a vivid picture from his memory of his old home. "I have been gone from this farm over forty years, but this is still my boy-hood home." He said.

"There are cobwebs on the ceilin'
There is dust upon the floor;
But still you get that feelin,
When you open up the door.
That you're comin' home again
To the days of other years---
So you look around and then
Brush aside your tears."

M. Oliver.
